

BLUFF

Specs: Bluff is the owner, operator and purveyor of Bluff's Casino. After losing his gambling license, he will open a wellness spa and rebrand himself as a "chosen protector" of the nature reserve his hotel resides on.

(ANNOYED) Addiction? It's NOT an addiction, betting is a lifestyle, these folks love to gamble, LIVE to gamble,...Take Smokey for example, he loves it here... okay well so it is an addiction...but I still think it is just a harsh label.

(TIRED) There is no prize money. It's a scam. We got scammed. FUCK. A casino can't run out of money, that's not how this works, PIA!

(SAVING FACE) Pia, put out a press release TONIGHT. We're going to be rebranding BLUFF's BIG WIN...as a wellness resort AND rehabilitation center... BLUFF's WAY BACK!

(SEARCHING) I've uh...had a change of heart. We're casting off the capitalistic traditions of casinos. We lose the slots and the sluts, sorry SHOW GIRLS. But keep the bartenders...

(WHISPERING) If we call them mocktails we can sell lemonade for five times the price.

(RUSHING) Now find me a fucking shaman, HOURLY. None of that weekly-reiki healer retainer bullshit.

(FAKE WISDOM) Perhaps it is not the amount of money you spent at this place...but the amount of time you have spent at this place. You cannot put a price on redemption... but we can put a 5 day deposit on any major credit card you have...
