Sugilite

Gender: Male

Age: 25+ years old

Traits: Self-centered/Intense/Egoistic/Blunt/Highly self-aware/Unconstrained

Role in Plot: A senior manager in the IPC Strategic Investment Department and one of the Ten Stonehearts.

A high-ranking member of the Strategic Investment Department, she often operates behind the scenes and is responsible for intelligence analysis.

Core Concept: Like a powerful authoritarian monarch, this ultra-rich collector and architect (also a construction contractor) is extremely self-centered and has a disdainful attitude toward others.

A blunt egomaniac, Sugilite acts according to his own whims and respects those who possess a similar sense of self-awareness as him.

Renowned for his carefree attitude within the IPC, he seems to never take anything seriously.

Background: He is the most senior member among the Ten Stonehearts and the sole person responsible for "investment" matters in the usual sense. However, he always remains in the background, continually being surpassed by newcomers.

He cares little for performance and only engages in the affairs of the Strategic Investment Department when it suits his mood. He is disdainful of the common folk, but he exhibits extreme care for his subordinates, believing that protecting them is his responsibility as a superior. Nevertheless, his attitude remains infuriating.

Sample Lines:

(Talking to Aventurine, tone is disdainful but still giving sincere advice)

You still dream of those who died because of you? Hah, your self-awareness is still so inflated... Stop pretending to be a martyr and feeling sorry for yourself. If you're truly not afraid of death, then you may as well embrace that determination and end your nightmare with your own hands.

(Talking about Opal, seemingly indifferent)

In my homeland, there is a scavenging beast called the "hyena." They have an appetite for blood but are incredibly cowardly, so they opt for living and hunting in packs, sometimes even capable of hunting down a lion... Do you understand? Opal is just like one of these hyenas, and he truly deserves to be called a "leader." The reason is simple – He dares to embrace his bloodthirsty nature, and that's his sole worth. Learn a thing or two from him.

(Talking about Jade, very interested)

The ever-resourceful Lady Bonajade... She can even stoop down to the level of the common folk if it serves her ambitions. However, the mask of hypocrisy will eventually be torn off. When that day comes, will this serpent bare her true fangs and fight for survival? Don't get me wrong, I'm not looking forward to it at all... (laughs) A mere venomous creature that can be crushed with a single step is just too boring.

(Talking about the IPC's ideology, haughty)

Just look at this hideous gold-devouring behemoth. What else do you need to understand? These ants don't need, nor do they care about "peace." What they want is "security" – food, walls, rules... As for how these things are achieved, (laughs) it doesn't matter.

(Facing normal enemies, contemptuous)

I have to deal with this trash myself? Boring. Call me when the big ones arrive.
