

Race : Human
Gender: Male
Age Range: Should sound about 50
Vocal Pitch: Medium
Accent: SUPER SLIGHT Mid-Atlantic

CHARACTER OVERVIEW / BACKGROUND

Khadgar is one of the most powerful wizards to have ever lived. He was the apprentice for the Last Guardian Medivh, and went on to become one of the greatest heroes of the Alliance during the Second War. His name is Dwarven and means "trust".

Khadgar was artificially aged during battle with a dangerous warlock. This is just another example of Khadgar showing a willingness to sacrifice himself to protect the world from evil. For the last several years, Khadgar has been exploring a faraway shattered world, learning a great deal about the arcane arts and the machinations of the universe. He detected a flaw in time that villains are using to create an alternate history, and thus immediately returned to his homeworld of Azeroth to warn everyone of impending doom.

Politics are of little concern to Khadgar. TEMPERED AND WISE, he will use his powers of persuasion to try to unite the two rival factions – the Alliance and the Horde – into a force capable of toppling the terrible threat from the world of Draenor.

Wise. Powerful. With a HUGE heart.

At the same time, he is Focused and Controlled. A natural leader.

MAIN CHARACTER BEATS

WARM & WISE

CALMING – He's got good sea legs.....doesn't rattle easy.

PRACTICAL / FOCUSED – He is a man with a job to do.

NATURALLY COMMANDING – His mere PRESENCE is commanding, doesn't have to exert.

WEATHERED – He's been beaten by time and all the events he's lived through.

WAR VETERAN – He's seen the very worst and the very best of life. Nothing fazes him.

MAIN VOCAL TRAITS

Should sound: HIGHLY INTELLIGENT / POWERFUL / COMMANDING / WARM

CELEBRITY REFERENCE

In terms of the character and "presence" we ultimately want for Khadgar....though an older wizard of sorts.....he should have more the presence of MAXIMUS (Russell Crowe's character from "Gladiator") rather than the vibe/presence of a Gandolf or a Dumbledore.

He should come across more like a commanding/experienced war veteran rather than an older wizard making potions.

AUDITION LINES

1. (Distracted Greeting) Yes yes...what do you need?

2. (Preparing a powerful spell)

Tendrils of the twisting nether spiral through this place. Can you feel them?

3. (Casting a powerful spell)

The language of arcane power is the language of the titans themselves – the language of all creation. (reciting spell) – Van Shalach, om Aeschis, Khaz'tolim!"

4. (Urging people not to fight)

Stay your weapons – both of you! Divided, we stand no chance against the Iron Horde.

5. (Warning people about a dangerous foe)

Gul'dan is the most powerful mortal warlock I have ever encountered. If we don't neutralize him soon, he'll find a way to plunge this entire world into flame.

